BMC ditches beach rescue devices from Turkiye

Shefall Parab-Pandit
MUMBAI

After facing criticism, the BMC has dumped the proposal to buy robotic water rescue devices from Turkiye. The devices were meant to improve safety at six Mumbai beaches. However, several political leaders opposed the plan, citing Turkiye's support to Pakistan.

During the monsoon, rough seas and unpredictable weather make beach activities very dangerous. Strong currents significantly increase the risk of drowning. Lifeguards play a vital role in monitoring conditions and ensuring the safety of beachgoers. To support the 111 lifeguards deployed at various beaches, the BMC had planned to procure robotic water rescue devices.

These remote-controlled robots are equipped with cameras and robotic arms to help locate victims and inspect underwater areas.

These Turkiye-made devices were planned to be used at six beaches – Girgaum, Dadar, Juhu, Versova, Aksa, and Gorai. However, the proposal faced opposition from BJP leader Bhalchandra Shirsat, who demanded that the contract be scrapped. Samajwadi Party MLA Rais Shaikh and Shiv Sena (UBT) leader Sachin

MUMBAI

The remaining 76km stretch of Samruddhi Mahamarg from Igatpuri to Amane in Thane is ready for a grand opening on June 5. Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis and both Deputy Chief Ministers – Eknath Shinde and Ajit Pawar – will attend the inaugural ceremony in Igatpuri.

The Maharashtra State Road Development Corporation (MSRDC) oversaw the ambitious 701km corridor. A formal proposal was earlier submitted to the state government seeking a date for the inauguration.

This final phase was originally expected to be operational by September or October last year. However, an incomplete spur road work linking Amane to the under-construction Vadodara - Mumbai Expressway (providing crucial access to JNPT Road) caused a delay of several months.

The Igatpuri-Amane section will bypass the steep and winding Kasara Ghat, ensuring safe travelling experience. The total corridor between Nagpur and Thane will reduce travel time from 16 hours by half to eight hours.

Powai lake drive: 1,450 MT hyacinth cleared in 10 days

Devashri Bhujbal
MUMBAI

In the last 10 days, as much as 1,450 metric tonnes (MT) of hyacinth have been removed from Powai Lake. The mushrooming vegetation is the result of water pollution, mainly caused due to untreated sewage emissions.

The BMC said the clean-up is part of the ongoing efforts to preserve and restore the natural environment of the lake. In the last six months, more than 25,000MT of hyacinth have been removed, officials said.

However, environment activist BN Kumar said that the BMC has started removing the vegetation from the Ganesh Ghat side, and the rains and winds are taking the hyacinth towards the IIT. "Removal of 1,500MT of hya-

Alarm over illegal reclamation of Lotus Wetland

Raina Assalnar
NAVI MUMBAI

An illegal attempt to reclaim the protected Lotus Wetland has sparked outrage among environmental activists and citizens in Navi Mumbai. Despite recent assurances given to the Bombay High Court by Navi Mumbai Municipal Corporation that the wetland would be safeguarded, fresh efforts to fill the lake have been reported, raising serious concerns over the transparency and legality of the move, said Sunil Agarwal, founder of Save Navi Mumbai Environment group.

According to a citizen, DK Jain, workers were seen removing barricades around the wetland on Saturday, and a contractor at the site claimed that, as per a work order from CIDCO, the lake was to be filled up. However, CIDCO denied any knowledge of such an order. "Alarmingly, workers and supervisors reportedly fled the site when similar attempt by CIDCO was stopped when the thenNMMC Commissioner Abhijit Bangar refused to grant permission for debris dumping, preserving the wetland's integrity.

The latest controversy comes after the dismissal of a PIL filed by Advocate Pradeep Patole, in which NMMC claimed it was taking adequate steps to protect the wetland. Agarwal pointed out that fencing installed by CIDCO seemed to support this claim, leading the public to believe the wetland was safe.

The NGO has issued an urgent call to the current NMMC Commissioner, Kailash Shinde, to intervene immediately, stop any further illegal activities, and ensure compliance with the Supreme Court's directives under the Wetlands (Conservation and Management) Rules, 2017. The group warns that the ongoing actions could amount to contempt of court and a blatant violation of environmental laws.
